

Brad Denton

Bradley Denton's novel LAUGHIN' BOY has just been published in paperback by Wheatland Press, and his Campbell-Award-winning novel BUDDY HOLLY IS ALIVE AND WELL ON GANYMEDE will soon be available free online at www.bradleydenton.net. (The Sturgeon-Award-winning novella "Sergeant Chip" is there, too.) Brad is also the author of the novels LUNATICS and BLACKBURN (now in a new Picador paperback edition) and of the World-Fantasy-Award-winning story collections A CONFLAGRATION ARTIST and THE CALVIN COOLIDGE HOME FOR DEAD COMEDIANS. Brad lives in Manchaca, Texas, with his spouse Barbara and their dogs Lucy, Linus, and Tillie . . . and his hobbies include eating barbecue, drinking Shiner, and playing the blues.