

Selena Rosen

Selina Rosen lives in rural Arkansas with her partner, her parrot, Ricky, assorted fish and fowl—both inside and out, several milk goats, an undetermined number of barn cats, and her dogs. Besides writing, editing, and taking care of the farm, she's a gardener, carpenter, rock mason, electrician (NOT a plumber), Torah scholar and sword fighter. In her spare time she creates water gardens, builds furniture, and adds to her on-going creation of the "Great Wall of Kibler."

Selina's short fiction has appeared in several magazines and anthologies including Sword and Sorceress 16, Such A Pretty Face, Distant Journeys, three of the MZB Fantasy Mags, Tooth and Claw, Turn the Other Chick, and Anthology At the End of the Universe. Her story entitled "Ritual Evolution" appeared in the first of the new Thieves World anthologies, Turning Points, and her second TW story, "Gathering Strength," appeared in the new TW anthology, Enemies of Fortune. Her newest story, "The Big Trash," recently appeared in HelixOnline.

Some of her thirteen published novels include Queen of Denial, Recycled, Chains of Freedom, Chains of Destruction, Strange Robby, The Host trilogy, Fire & Ice, Hammer Town, Reruns, and novellas entitled The Boatman and Material Things. Bad Lands, a gonzo-mystery novel co-written with Laura J. Underwood from Five Star Mystery (Techno Books) was released in 2007, and Sword Masters, Selina's first full-length epic fantasy novel was released this February.

Her newest project is one that, hopefully, will be on-going for several years. Check out her website (www.selinarosen.com) for her continuing series, The House. It's posted in episodes—approximately two per month.

In her capacity as editor-in-chief of Yard Dog Press, Ms. Rosen has edited several anthologies, including the award-winning Bubbas of the Apocalypse, The Four Bubbas of the Apocalypse: Flatulence, Halitosis, Incest and...Ned, International House of Bubbas, Houston: We've Got Bubbas!, and two collections of "modern" fairy tales—the Stoker-nominated Stories That Won't Make Your Parents Hurl and More Stories That Won't Make Your Parents Hurl.
