

Ty Gephardt

Genetically altered by aliens to appear human, Ty was sent to live among the Terrans in order to learn everything he could about them. Unfortunately, the aliens dropped their subject off in the middle of Kansas. Ty's only logical course of action was to join a local monastery and learn the secrets of the Kansas-Fu to help them defeat the evil menace know as "the G." During a gruesome battle Ty was killed, but not before opening a portal with his mind into the past to be reincarnated as Modern-day Ty with help from Jan and Packy Gephardt. Both of Ty's parents were in fandom at the time and open to the possibility that their first-born child may be a genetically-altered, time-traveling alien who was there to take over the world. To foil the plans the aliens set forth, they embroiled their son in the ways of fandom, where he as lived ever since—safely in the dreamland that is KaCSFFS.
