

William McCullough

William has been a fan of science fiction and comics since before he could read. How was this possible? He pestered his siblings to read to him. His brother didn't mind too much, he enjoyed it. His sister hated reading to William. Truth be told, William hated it too, his sister pinched when displeased.

He also became a fan of old time radio at around the same time he became a fan of SF, no siblings were required, especially not the evil older sister with the pincher like fingers. Much safer for him, all that was required was a radio and an imagination.

You will find William expounding on the virtues of listening to the Golden Age of Radio or the joys of brewing and drinking beer all around the con. Check out his collection of table top tube radios in the Listeners Lounge.

William has been a member of the Kansas City Science Fiction and Fantasy society for eleven years and the current director. He has been attending ConQuest since 1985 and Co-chair twice.

He lives in Kansas City with his wife Cyndy and daughter Kat.
